

Senator George McGovern spoke to Augie students, faculty, administration and people from the community Dec. 4. He explained the questionable actions of officials in Nixon's administration and called for the impeachment of Nixon in light of several actions connected with his office. He emphasized that the impeachment procedure is only the equivalent of indictment and after being impeached the President would then be tried by the Senate.

The Grateful Dead are now on their own Grateful Dead Records label. They are free of the hassles that they have been plagued by for the last few years. They were going to have their albums distributed by vans following their concert tour but then they got realistic. Their albums are now being distributed in the normal fashion, but their music is anything but normal. Wake of the Flood is another great album in their long line of great albums. "Mississippi Half-Step Uptown Toodleloo," "Here Comes the Sunshine," and "Weather Report Stuie" will soon be remembered the way that "Casey Jones," "Uncle John's Band," and "Truckin'" are remembered. They are enlisting the aid of musicians and instruments on the Wake of the Flood, most notably is Doug Sahm on 12 string guitar. This is another album that I listen to and hope that you will like.

We at KAUR will be staying with you all the way through finals, we will be broadcasting full-time until vacation with December 17th being our final day. We will be letting you follow Augie basketball on KAUR broadcasting the games during vacation, so stay tuned to the Sound Alternative. Look us up when you get back for interim, we will be on the air full-time starting January 3rd. We would like to thank all of you for listening this semester and wish you Happy Holidays. See you again in January.
